

The DevOps culture is reshaping the role of Software Engineers.
How can we educate computing students to follow the software life-cycle through development, to delivery and beyond?

We have made an attempt at making this culture a core value across our Degree. Come to our talk and see how!